WHEREAS, in ¶160B of the Social Principles, in the statement on energy resources utilization, we declare, “Affirming the inherent value of nonhuman creation, we support and encourage social policies that are directed toward rational and restrained transformation of parts of the nonhuman world into energy for human usage and that de-emphasize or eliminate energy-producing technologies that endanger the health, the safety, and even the existence of the present and future human and nonhuman creation. Further, we urge wholehearted support of the conservation of energy and responsible development of all energy resources, with special concern for the development of renewable energy sources, that the goodness of the earth may be affirmed.” and

WHEREAS, the 2008 General Conference amended and adopted our long-standing energy policy statement, which in part calls for all United Methodists, including churches and annual conferences, to be models for energy conservation by doing such things as: installing dampers in furnaces, insulating adequately all church properties, heating and lighting only rooms that are in use, using air circulation, purchasing energy efficient appliances, and exploring alternative energy sources such as solar energy. Local churches, camps, and agencies are urged to become involved in programs such as the Energy Stewardship Congregation and Interfaith Power and Light programs, thereby witnessing our shared values of justice and sustainability. and

This guide is called, “Building a Firm Foundation: A Creation-Friendly Building Guide for Churches. and,

PETITION 2009-9 U.S.-SPONSORED TORTURE: A CALL FOR A COMMISSION OF INQUIRY

WHEREAS, one of our core principles as the people of faith called United Methodists is our belief in the inherent worth and dignity of all persons; and

WHEREAS, torture violates the basic dignity of the human person, degrades everyone involved — from policy-makers to perpetrators to victims — and contradicts our nation’s most cherished values; and

WHEREAS, torture is inherently wrong and immoral, because it is designed to break the human soul and the human body; and

WHEREAS, the 2008 General Conference adopted resolutions expressing The United Methodist Church’s opposition to torture and calling for the abolition of torture and urging that...

United Methodists must seek to ensure the ratification by compliance of their governments with the provisions of the Convention against Torture and all internationally accepted norms and standards on the prevention of torture; fully support the work of the International Criminal Court (ICC) and honor their international obligations to prosecute alleged perpetrators of torture.

And,

WHEREAS, reliable evidence available to the public has shown that the United States has engaged in torture and cruel, inhuman and degrading treatment in response to the terrorist acts of September 11, 2001, including a report produced by the International Committee of the Red Cross and made known to the public in February of 2009 that concluded: “[T]he ill-treatment to which [detainees] were subjected while held in the CIA [Central Intelligence Agency of the United States] program, either singly or in combination, constituted torture.”; and

WHEREAS, this evidence is supported by the four Bush Administration memos relating to torture released in April in response to an American Civil Liberties Union request under the Freedom of Information Act; and

WHEREAS, these memos detail tactics such as waterboarding; sleep deprivation; nudity; slapping; keeping prisoners in dark, confined spaces that are small enough to restrict ability to move; and other tactics; and

WHEREAS the full story on the scope, breadth and depth of U.S. sponsored torture and cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment has yet to be fully revealed; and

WHEREAS public awareness, acknowledgement, and understanding of what the United States has done with respect to the use of torture and cruel, inhuman and degrading treatment are necessary in order to make sure that our nation never again engages in this conduct;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the New York Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church endorses the following statement, drafted by the National Religious Coalition Against Torture (NRCAT), "U.S.-sponsored Torture Now: A Call for a Commission of Inquiry":

The United States must never again engage in torture. Torture is immoral, illegal and counterproductive. It causes profound and lasting harm, especially to its victims but also to its perpetrators. It contradicts our nation's deepest values and corrupts the moral fabric of our society.

We call for an impartial, nonpartisan, and independent Commission of Inquiry. Its purpose should be to gather all the facts and make recommendations. It should ascertain the extent to which our interrogation practices have constituted torture and "cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment". Understanding the causes, nature and scope of U.S.-sponsored torture is essential for preventing it in the future and eliminating it from our system without loopholes. U.S. law will determine the extent of any criminal culpability.

As people of faith, we know that brokenness can be healed – both in individual lives and in the life of the nation. All religions believe that redemption is possible. Learning the truth can set us on a path toward national healing and renewal.

The United States must never again allow itself to be driven by blinding fears and bitter resentments in responding to national tragedy. The use of torture only serves to undermine our security in a dangerous world.

Nothing less than the soul of our nation is at stake in confronting U.S.-sponsored torture and completely renouncing its use. Let the U.S. reaffirm its values by establishing a Commission of Inquiry.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the conference secretary of the NYAC will send a letter to NRCAT and the U.S. Attorney General expressing our endorsement of this statement upon conclusion of the 2009 New York Annual Conference session.
